☒ Before the program:

Visit the Let's Talk About It web site: www.lili.org/read/letstalk for information on the book, author, and theme.

Discussion questions

Although some of the themes have prepared discussion questions on the web site, we encourage you to email or fax your own discussion questions and links to any program-related web sites you have located.

Brief biography

Please email or fax a brief (1 or 2 paragraphs) biography for the local program coordinator. We will also post this on the Let's Talk About It web site with a link to your college/university or personal web site.

☒ At the program:

Presentation: Make a short presentation on the book. Please do not lecture for more than 20-30 minutes.

Discussion: Facilitate discussion with the program participants. Some libraries use small groups for discussion while others keep participants together in one larger group. Please confer with the local coordinator and discuss how the discussion portion of the program will be structured and your role.

☒ After the program:

Return to the State Library: Please return your signed invoice, the program feedback form and the book (if we loaned you one) to the State Library. Please include your preparation time and travel time on the in-kind portion of the invoice.
